This survey is administered for your university by the independent research organisation i-graduate. All analysis is governed by the Privacy Act 1988. Further analysis may be carried out by the survey's coordinators at your university to compile the data, and this may enable them to identify you as an individual respondent, but they will not present student data to any other departments at your university in this way. Results will only be reported to departments from groups of 10 or more students. By taking part in the survey you agree to this. The reporting process includes the text of any comments that you provide. If you want to know more about i-graduate, please click here to view our privacy policy and FAQs.
