

Urban Research Program

2008 Seminar Series

Dr Peter Hoppe

Participatory Social Impact Management

This seminar will explore an alternative approach to social impact management, emphasising participation, collaboration and controlled empowerment. Peter will discuss examples of advanced community engagement models, resulting from his research in Switzerland and Central Queensland. These models have been successfully applied by the Swiss Cement and Quarrying industry and the Brisbane City Council Water projects.

Peter Hoppe has a PhD in Environmental Sociology and is currently the Principal Officer, Social Impact Management, of the Brisbane City Council.
