

Honours College

be distinct

Designed for high achieving students, the Griffith Honours College provides enriching experiences in combination with undergraduate degree studies. Many of these experiences will be exclusive to the Honours College with students developing skills in high demand by employers – leadership, teamwork, communication, community engagement, intellectual curiosity and the development of research and industry skills.

The Honours College experience has been created to allow students to reach their full potential and differentiate them from their peers upon graduation.

Why be part of the Honours College?

The Honours College will produce highly sought after graduates with the specialist knowledge and broad management competencies to become the CEO's, researchers, educators, creators and community leaders of the 21st century.

They will:

- Be Challenged – courses are tailored for high achieving students and are only available to Honours College students.
- Receive Personal Attention – students will take part in regular one-on-one sessions with a mentor to give them guidance throughout their university years and steer them towards their career goals.
- Collaborate – share ideas and work with leading Griffith researchers, academics and other high achieving students across a number of disciplines
- Be Recognised - as high achieving amongst the university community

Am I eligible?

Entry to the Honours College is highly competitive and selection will be based on a combination of academic and personal achievement.

Admission is available to school leavers and non-school leavers who are undertaking their first undergraduate degree. International students meeting the eligibility criteria who have been made an offer to study at Griffith University are welcome to apply for the Honours College.
