Each year the Australian Rivers Institute offers one SEQ Catchments Honours Bursary in River Restoration.

The personal bursary of $2,000 is available to students enrolling full-time in Honours at Griffith University in first semester 2015.

Your application needs to include:
1. Your proposed Honours research topic.
2. An outline of your Honours project and how it is directly linked to river restoration (250 words maximum).
3. Name of your principal supervisor, who must be an Australian Rivers Institute Researcher (and name of any associate supervisors).
4. An up-to-date CV including your address, email and phone number.
5. Current Memorandum of Results.

How to Apply:

Complete and submit the SEQ Catchment Honours Bursary Application Form.

Information about potential Australian Rivers Institute Supervisors can be found at www.rivers.edu.au.

For additional information, please contact Professor Jane Hughes by email jane.hughes@griffith.edu.au

Please Email your application to ari@griffith.edu.au

Applications close 4.00pm Friday 11 March 2016