

Memorial Sculpture and Garden

Body Donation Program

Griffith University Memorial Garden

The Griffith University Memorial Garden is located within the grounds of the Southport Lawn Cemetery, Melia Court, Southport. A large purpose-designed and sculptured monument has been erected and family and friends of donors are warmly invited to visit the sculpture, place flowers at the sculpture, or just take time to sit and reflect.

Unfortunately, plaques for individual donors cannot be placed on or immediately around the base of the sculpture. However, if you or your family wish to organise a memorial plaque to be placed within the grounds of the cemetery, you can contact the Gold Coast City Council's Cemeteries Administration staff on:

Phone: (07) 5581 6640

Fax: (07) 5581 6005

Email: gcccmail@goldcoast.qld.gov.au

The Gold Coast City Council has an area reserved near the sculpture for donor memorial plaques.

Grande Granite from J H Wagner and Sons

This sculpture is in recognition of the donors who have donated their bodies to the Griffith University Body Donation program and who have made a vital contribution to the training of the next generation of scientists and professionals in medicine and allied health.

The Artist

Sculptor, Luke Zwolsman

Luke lives and works on the Gold Coast, Queensland. He has attended several international symposia and many of his works have been commissioned and acquired by local governments, corporate and private clientele. He is gaining a higher profile in Australia as a stone sculptor who often uses a 'portal theme' as in gateways to a new understanding of life. He particularly likes to work in hard stone.

“What we have done for ourselves alone dies with us; what we have done for others and the world remains and is immortal.”

Albert Pike
(1809 – 1891)
