The World, Security and Australia in the 21st Century

by Senator Russell Trood

Senator Trood’s seminar will explore the foundations of order and sources of uncertainty in the world today. He will argue that the international system is a great deal more complex than during the Cold War and that there is considerable potential for chronic global insecurity. He will also suggest ways that Australia should respond to the challenges of the new global order if it is to preserve and protect its national interest.
