Acknowledgement of Country

Griffith University acknowledges the people who are the traditional custodians of the land, pays respect to Elders, past and present, and extends that respect to other Indigenous Australians.

A progressive history

Since opening in 1975 with a promise to make education as accessible and egalitarian as possible, Griffith University has evolved into a respected and influential incubator of progressive thought leadership.

Today, as the home of more than 55,000 students learning across its five South East Queensland campuses and Digital campus, Griffith has long outgrown its humble roots as a single campus of 451 students to become a comprehensive, research-intensive university ranking in the top 2 per cent of universities worldwide.

We've always put our students first, teaching progressive degrees focused on sustainability and deeply connected with the Asia-Pacific region.

With our core commitment to diversity and inclusion, the highest Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population of any Queensland university and a range of admission pathways that value life experience as well as academic achievement, we're actively making Griffith a place that is proudly dedicated to creating a future for everyone.

We've never lost sight of our progressive beginnings. Everything we do—from education to research to community involvement—is designed to support our students, graduates and communities and help them navigate the opportunities and challenges of the future.

Innovative teaching

We have a long history of driving innovation and achievement in higher education through our future-focused degrees that meet the ever-changing needs of students, industry and the community.

Since our earliest days, we've been breaking new ground by introducing Australian-first degrees in vital fields such as Asian studies, environmental science, biomedical science, environmental engineering, forensic science, aviation, Australian Indigenous arts, photonics and nanoscience, suicide prevention and dental technology.

Our faculty boasts four Australian University Teachers of the Year and, since 2012, our teachers have won more Australian Government awards, citations, fellowships and grants than any other university.

We are a founding member of Open Universities Australia and, with 20 years' experience teaching students in the digital space, are one of Australia's leading providers of online education.

Our students graduate with advanced knowledge of their discipline, problem-solving and communication skills, and capacity for teamwork. Their commitment to ethics and social justice and understanding of sustainability and its implications for business, industry and the wider community makes them stand out from the crowd.

Research with impact

Our degrees are informed by world-class research. In fact, in the most recent Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) evaluation, conducted in 2018, Griffith was rated as world standard or better in 59 fields of research, comprising 98% of the University's research output.

As the base for renowned centres such as the Griffith Institute for Drug Discovery (GRIDD), Menzies Health Institute Queensland (MHIQ), Griffith Institute for Tourism (GIFT), the Australian Rivers Institute (ARI), Cities Research Institute (CRI) and many more, the University consistently produces cutting-edge, impactful research focused on making a positive difference in people's lives.

Areas of strategic focus for our 1,700+ researchers include climate change adaptation, health and chronic diseases, drug discovery, water science, criminology, quantum physics, music, nursing, sustainable tourism, environment and education.

This research focuses on key scientific questions and social issues confronting national and international communities by bringing together disciplines to find solutions that create social, health, environmental or economic benefits—in the same way we have done for more than 40 years.

For students, we're committed to providing high-quality research training and opportunities to explore collaborative, interdisciplinary and socially responsive research through our range of postgraduate research degrees and doctorates.

Underpinning our globally recognised research is our proven ability to establish strong partnerships with industry, employers, organisations, government and the wider community, making Griffith a place where next-generation researchers and professionals are being thoroughly prepared and nurtured to make a world-changing difference of their own.

Australia's fastest growing university precinct

We are Australia's fastest-growing university precinct, and we continue to invest in building and development across our campuses.

Most recently, Nathan campus has welcomed the completion of our state-of-the-art Engineering, Technology and Aviation building. Opened in early 2020, the six-storey, 6,000-square-metre facility features specialised laboratories, workshops, informal learning spaces, engagement spaces, a simulation studio and rooftop energy research zone.

Our world-class aquatic centre, at the Gold Coast campus, opened in 2017 and includes a 50-metre swimming pool and fitness facility. The centre, open to students and the general public, hosts community, regional, state and national sporting competitions.

We also opened the Griffith Business School building at our Gold Coast campus in 2014, featuring one of Australia's most advanced and well-equipped trading rooms for banking, finance and financial planning students.

And we're not done growing yet—we have plans for even more infrastructure expansion and innovation in the coming years as we look to revitalise our campuses and continue adapting to our ever-changing world.

At Griffith, we're committed to creating a future for all.

We believe that higher education is crucial to a better tomorrow, and everyone with the potential to succeed should receive the support they need to achieve their goals. Above all, we strive to ensure our students graduate as employable, engaged, informed and inquisitive community members, armed with the skills, knowledge, experience and confidence they need to face the future.
