

Basil Jones was appointed as Senior Teacher of Violin at the newly-founded Queensland Conservatorium of Music in 1057 reall Jones was appointed as Senior Teacher or Violin at the newly-founded Queensland Conservatorium of Music in 1957.

After serving as Acting Director of the Conservatorium in 1957. newly-Tounded Queensland Conservatorium of Music in 1959,

After serving as Acting Director of the Conservatorium in 1959, be Mac appointed as Director in 1960 and hold this position until Basil Jones Arter serving as Acting Director or the Conservatorium in 1959, he was appointed as Director in 1960 and held this position until his retirement in 1980.

As Director, Basil Jones Was responsible for the implementation As unector, basil joiles was responsible for the implementation and development of new academic courses and a general and development of new academic restricturing of the entire educational program. In 1969, he restricturing of the entire educational program. and development of new academic courses and a general in 1968, he restructuring of the entire educational program. In for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted a proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the cubmitted and proposal to the Education Department for the Educa his retirement in 1980. restructuring or the entire educational program. In Typis, he submitted a proposal to the Education Department for the submitted a proposal to the Education of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and implementation of a course for the training development and the traini submitted a proposal to the Education Department Tor the development and implementation of a Course for the Dialoma of music specialists in State Schools The Fellowship Dialoma development and implementation of a course for the training of music specialists in State Schools. The Fellowship Diploma of music specialists in state school Music source introduced in 1060 Mass a significant of School Music source introduced in 1060 Mass assignment. or music specialists in State Schools. The reliowship ulploma of School Music course, introduced in 1969, was a significant of School Music course, introduced in dramatically increasing milestone in the Conservatorium's history dramatically increasing or School Music course, introduced in 1909, was a significant milestone in the Conservatorium's history, dramatically increasing milestone in the Conservatorium many career opportunities for career and opening up many career opportunities for career and opening up many career opportunities. milestone in the Conservatorium's mistory, uramatically increasing for student numbers and opening up many career opportunities. The student numbers and opening up many career to this point. The volung Oueenslanders which had not existed up to this point. student numbers and opening up many career opportunities for young Queenslanders which had not existed up to this point. The young Queenslanders which had not existed up to this point. The Queensland in 1074 by the Queensland young Queenslanders which had not existed up to this point. The course was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland source was eventually accredited to the properties of the properties course was eventually accredited in 1974 by the Queensland accredited a performance and composition, within the new degree course performance and composition, within the new degree course a College Bachelor of Arts in Music. The Conservatorium became a College that these courses were the contract which there courses were the contract which there is a contract which the contract which there is a contract which is a contract which there is a contract which is a contra Bacnelor of Arts in Music. The Conservatorium became a College of Advanced Education in 1971 and these courses were the first music degrees to be accordited for institutions outside the or Advanced Education in 1971 and these courses were the first music degrees to be accredited for institutions outside the

As Director of the Conservatorium for over 20 years, Basil Jones As Director of the Conservatorium for over ZU years, pash Jones opened a new vista in music education in this state.

Jeadership the Conservatorium became the second largest leadership the Conservatorium became the second largest leadership. university sector at the time.

opened a new vista in music education in this state. Under his leadership, the Conservatorium became the second largest leadership, the Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national and international music school in Australia and achieved national music school in Australi readersnip, the Conservatorium became the second largest music school in Australia and achieved national and the quality music school in Australia and achieved national and international recognition for the high standard of its courses and the quality of its students. The nurnoce—built new Campus at Cardens Doint of its students. recognition for the night standard of its students. The purpose-built new campus at highlight of his was also a major highlight of his which was append in 1075. or its students. The purpose-pulit new campus at Gardens Point, which was opened in 1975, was also a major highlight of his

In recognition of Basil Jones' distinguished contributions, the University parced the Orchestral Hall of the Queensland In recognition of Basil Jones Orchestral Hall of the Queensland the University named the Orchestral Hall of the Queensland Conservatorium "The Racil Jones Orchestral Hall" the University hamed the Orchestral Hall".

Conservatorium "The Basil Jones Orchestral Hall".

