

Digital Documents have arrived...

What is My eEquals?

My eEquals gives students and graduates secure access to your academic records online. It allows you to share your digital documents with anyone you choose, at any time. You can also control how long someone can view your records.

My eEquals replaces paper-based Official Academic Transcripts and Australian Higher Education Graduation Statements (AHEGS) with verified digital formats. Degree certificates are also available as verified digital documents, in addition to the continuing paper-based document.

It provides faster access to graduation documents, particularly if you don't attend a graduation ceremony or graduate outside a ceremony round. Documents will be accessible one business day after your graduation date.

Those third parties (eg - employers) who receive access to documents from a student/graduate will be able to rely on the authenticity of the documents and be less concerned about potential fraud.

What documents will be available on My eEquals and for how long?

- Official transcripts - before and after graduation
- Degree certificates (testamurs) - upon graduation only
- Australian Higher Education Graduation Statements (AHEGS) - upon graduation only (from July 2010 only)

These documents will be available on each students' My eEquals account indefinitely.

Who can access documents via My eEquals?

July 2017 onwards

Current students and those who graduate in July 2017 and beyond will be able to access documents via My eEquals.

Pre-July 2017

Those who graduated before July 2017 can request access to their documents (fees apply).

Pre-2006 graduates who would like a digital testamur should contact replytograduations@griffith.edu.au for assistance before submitting your request.

Students with no enrolment after 2015 who would like a digital transcript should contact Student Administration for assistance before submitting your request.

Is the environment secure?

Yes. Griffith documents accessed via My eEquals can only be produced by us.

All PDF documents in My eEquals contain cryptographic digital signatures to ensure their authenticity and integrity. These signatures are automatically verified by opening them in Adobe Reader version 9 or later. In Adobe Reader, the person accessing the document will see a "blue ribbon" digital signature at the top of the document that indicates its validity.

Students and graduates cannot upload or modify documents in My eEquals. They can only view and share.

Will paper copies still be available?

Paper copies of degree certificates will remain indefinitely and we will increasingly move towards digital-only documents for transcripts and AHEGS.

We anticipate employers will rely on digital documents due to immediacy and less fraud potential.

How much do digital documents cost?

July 2017 onwards

Graduates will have free access to their digital graduation documents from the date of their graduation.

If they require a transcript prior to graduation, students can request a digital copy using the existing 'Request an Official Transcript' online form (see costs below). Degree certificates and AHEGS are not available prior to graduation.

Pre-July 2017 graduates

Access to digital documents will be available for a fee (see below) on request.

Pre-2006 graduates who would like a digital testamur should contact replytograduations@griffith.edu.au for assistance before submitting your request.

Students with no enrolment after 2015 who would like a digital transcript should contact Student Administration for assistance before submitting your request.
