

Are you a Tourism, Business or Environmental Management Graduate with an analytical mind and a passion for sustainable tourism?

EarthCheck is one of the world's leading environmental management and business advisory companies.

EarthCheck has clients in over 70 countries worldwide, representing a broad scale of operations from specialist and boutique operations to global enterprises.

The Role – Data Analyst

EarthCheck is seeking a Tourism, Business or Environmental Management Graduate with exceptional project management skills, an analytical mind and a passion for sustainable tourism for the position of Data Analyst..

Working as part of a small dynamic team you will be responsible for providing data analytics to members of EarthCheck's international benchmarking and certification programme. This opportunity offers a great sense of challenge and reward to a motivated candidate wishing to work in a friendly and growing team environment.

Skills and Requirements

The successful applicant will have experience including, but not limited to:

- Degree in relevant field - preferably Tourism, Environmental or Business Management
- Excellent written and oral communication
- Project Management skills
- Exceptional team player
- Strong computer skills and Microsoft Office software experience
- Ability to solve problems and deliver solutions
- Cultural sensitivity

Applications close 23rd August, 2019

Please email a copy of your CV and covering letter to melinda.watt@earthcheck.org
If you would like further information please contact Melinda Watt on 07 32381900