

Sally Terare

Sally Terare

Through their hands

My original painting is representative of continuing to grow, teach and encourage our future generations of both sacred practice and modern methods important to the growth and flourishing of our land and waterways. Through our hands and through theirs, healing is a constant message and responsibility of us as collective caretakers.

