

If you are a family member or close friend of a woman who was killed by their current or former intimate partner, Griffith University researchers would like to talk to you

Your participation would involve taking part in a one-on-one interview, conducted over the phone by a clinical interviewer, which would last approximately two to three hours. The information gathered will assist us in the development of more effective violence prevention strategies for Australian women.

We warmly welcome your contribution to the study if:

- ✓ You are aged 18 years or over;
- ✓ You are a family member or close friend of a woman who was killed by their current or former intimate partner (e.g., husband/de facto or boyfriend);
- ✓ It has been at least 6 months since the death of your loved one;
- ✓ Your loved one was living in Queensland or New South Wales at the time of their death; and
- ✓ You feel you can speak in detail about your loved one's life.

If you are interested in participating and would like to know more about the project, please phone: (07) 3735 6965

email: femicidestudy@griffith.edu.au or contact the research team online:

We thank you for considering our invitation and look forward to hearing from you.

We assure you that your privacy will be protected at all times and any information you may provide will remain confidential. The study has been approved by the Griffith University Ethics Committee (Reference No: 2017/246).